DES MOINES ICE ARENA, POPULAR "HOME OF THE BUCS"

① ICING THE PUCK ①

Icing the puck occurs when a player shoots the puck up the ice from his side of the center red line and across the opposing team's goal line and the puck is touched by an opposing player. When this happens play is stopped and a face-off is held in one of the face-off circles in the offending team's end of the rink. This rule does not apply to a team that is playing shorthanded due to a penalty or when the puck goes into the opponents goal.

② OFFSIDE PASS ②

An offside pass, also called a two-line offside, occurs when a member of the attacking team passes the puck up the ice across his own blue line and the center red line to a teammate. When this happens play is stopped and a face-off is held at the spot from which the pass was started.

③ OFFSIDE ③

An offside occurs when any member of the attacking team crosses the defending team's blue line before the puck does. When this happens play is stopped and a face-off is held just outside the defending team's blue line in the neutral zone.

Buccaneer Scouting System

Scouting consists of several important situations. Most scouts will identify these to be the hunt, the find, the evaluation, the tryout and the gamble.

Tied together in working definition, scouting can be described as the search for hockey players with Junior "A" tools and gambling after he is found that his hockey skills will arrive at projected schedules. Most junior hockey clubs are interested in basically the same qualities when looking for a rare person. Generally speaking, these are the abilities to skate, shoot, handle the puck and use the body. The order of priority varies with each hockey club.

Measuring a player's tangible qualities is only half the battle. A player must also display the necessary intangible qualities such as desire, staying power, intelligence and a sound mental attitude. Without the intangible, physical hockey abilities are often neutralized.

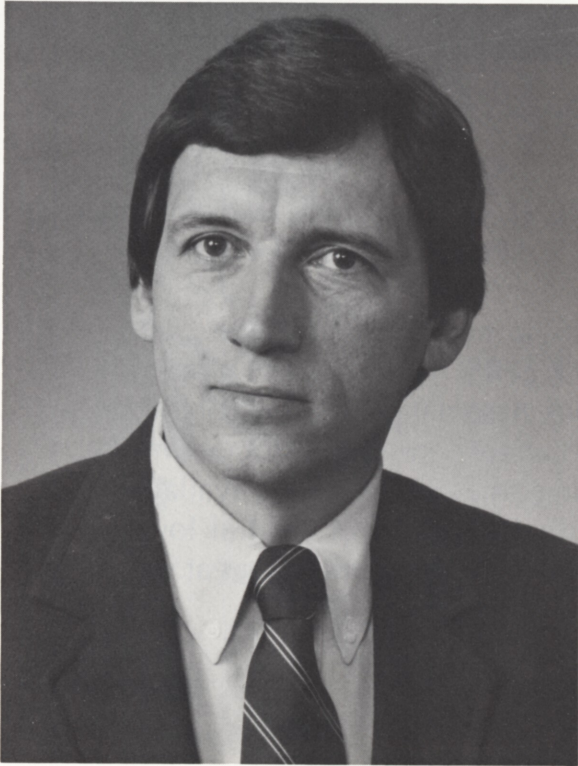

When Buccaneer scouts are attending games, they are looking for the best hockey players between the ages of 16 and 19 years old. If a boy is invited to tryout camp, it is solely because his tools on a projected basis make the probability of him playing with the Buccaneers a distinct possibility.

If he advances quickly beyond that and remains with us for just a short time — that is part of the game.

The scout with many of his player recommendations in advanced leagues and colleges is a rare breed. He is also successful. I am proud to say that many of our scouts occupy that level.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the Buccaneer scouts for their efforts in helping me during this, the Buccaneer's fifth year.

Ivan Prediger
General Manager - Coach

On behalf of Des Moines Youth Hockey I would like to welcome you to the Des Moines Ice Arena, home of amateur hockey in Des Moines.

The Arena has served as the home of youth hockey since 1961, and today we have over 350 boys and girls ranging in age from 4 to 14 participating in our learn-to-skate Polar Program, recreational House League, and our competitive Travel Hockey programs. Last year teams from our travel programs competed successfully against teams from ten different states and Canada, which, I believe, proves the excellence of our program.

The Arena became the home of the Buccaneers in 1980. Under the guidance of coach Ivan Prediger the Bucs have treated Des Moines area hockey fans to an exciting and winning brand of hockey, while at the same time providing financial assistance to our youth hockey program.

Thank you, Bucs, thank you, Ivan, and thank you Buccaneer fans for helping to make our Amateur Programs so successful!

A MESSAGE FROM THE COACH

On behalf of myself and my family, I would like to thank the fans of the Des Moines and surrounding areas for their support during the past four years.

We have had many thrilling moments as well as some sad ones and you have supported myself and the players through each of them.

It is because of fans like you and the Buc organization that young players desire to come to Des Moines to complete their junior years.

We have had some good clubs and seen some talented players pass through the Buc organization. I feel this year we owe you a championship and I will put forth every effort to fulfill that dream.

HOCKEY IS A WOMAN'S GAME

So you think hockey is a man's game? Well, think again and take a look at the women spectators.

Where else but at a hockey game could a 95-lb. woman call a 220-lb. man a "bone-headed nitwit" and get away with it?

Where else could a woman in moments of frenzied point-scoring pound the daylight's out of the head and shoulders of a male spectator sitting in front of her and not have him (1) call the cops to throw her out or (2) call his lawyer to prefer assault charges?

Where else could a woman gleefully turn to a male stranger at right or left and publicly hug this man with estatic abandon yet not risk social criticism?

Where else could she heap outrageous verbal abuse upon highly trained professional officials and referees deploring their lack of mental ability, their failing eyesight, their ignorance of hockey rules, their obvious partiality to unworthy players, their demonstrated fitness only for the Bread Line — where else but at a hockey game could a woman insult several men in the foregoing manner and not (1) get her head knocked off or (2) get a beamier area farther south roundly spanked?

Where else could she publicly cast verbal aspersions upon the ancestry and lineage of players and officials she dislikes without being hauled into court for slander?

Where but watching hockey could a Grande Dame from The Highlands wearing a $1,500 Dior Original sit beside a waitress from Bert's Beanery wearing a $5 bargain basement basic black and find complete rapport during hours of season-ticket games?

Where else can the mother of a Big Brood get a better night out with the Old Man than be sitting like a couple of bookends with the kids parked between them and send for refreshments between periods so Mom gets waited on for a change?

Where else can a women of low income and sensitive spirit anonymously join others in the same boat and know for a couple of exciting hours that personal bad luck makes not one bit of difference?

Where else can the middle income woman enjoy the variety of figure, face, clothing and overall style of her sisterhood?

And where else can the haut couture woman either parade her possessions or "slip into something simple" to provide or witness the inevitable style show which every hockey game is to ALL women?

Like we keep telling people, "Hockey is a woman's game!" Just look around and see.

#10 GREG BISKUP (1983-84) IN ACTION AGAINST STATE RIVAL SIOUX CITY

Dear USHL Fans:

Welcome to an exhibition of Junior "A" Hockey at its finest. This year, the United States Hockey League welcomes back into competition franchises from cities where USHL competition has been enjoyed in the past, in Thunder Bay, Ontario, Canada, and Madison, Wisconsin. The addition of these two franchises, along with the strengthening of the remaining eight franchises, has brought the United States Hockey League to the forefront as the largest and finest Junior "A" Hockey League in the country.

The League remains dedicated to providing a proving ground for the development of players, referees and coaches. Graduates of the United States Hockey League's development program have gone on to distinguish themselves in their hockey careers, including most significantly, Lou Vairo, 1984 US Olympic Coach (Austin Maverick Coach 1975-78).

We would, at this time, personally request your assistance in helping us maintain the highest caliber of competition within our League. You, the fan, can help by your support of your team, both on and off the ice. We encourage your support to be a positive influence in the conduct of the games. We ask that each and every fan remember the responsibilities of a "good host" when visiting teams and fans are in your arena, and hope you will find the competition to foster friendships between the various communities and the supporters of the various teams as they travel throughout the League. If you invest yourself in this support, your returns will be rich and the rewards of friendships throughout the League will be bountiful.

Now, sit back and enjoy Junior "A" Hockey at its finest — USHL style. Very truly yours,

If you're thinking about using one of those new long distance phone companies to place short long distance calls, there's a good chance that you'll pay more than you should. You need to know about something called a Bell™ Zone. It's sometimes referred to as a Local Access and Transport Area (LATA) and it's where Northwestern Bell can provide your long distance service.

In the process, we can often save you money. As you can see from the chart, our rates are competitive. More importantly, you'll get what you pay for — clean, clear connections on every call. Or your money back.*

And of course our long distance service offers calling ease that is second to none. Simply dial "1" plus the number. Include the Area Code only if it's different from your own.

So the next time you think about using one of those other long distance phone companies, consider where you're calling. If it's in your Bell Zone, we could save you money.
